GREAT FUNERAL FOR MAC SWINEY

To Be Most Impressive Expression of Irish Sentiment Ever Seen—Noted Prelates and Sons of Erin Gather at London—Inquest Tomorrow—Place of Burial Not Certain.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 26.—Final plans were made today for a great and impressive funeral for Terence Mac Swiney, the late lord mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton jail yesterday morning after a hunger strike of nearly 74 days. The greatest honors ever paid to a leader in the movement for Irish freedom will be accorded the late lord mayor. Large numbers of Sinn Féin officials are coming from Ireland to take part.

Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who was prevented from going to Ireland by the British government, will assist at the ceremonies. A solemn High Requiem Mass will be celebrated at St. George's Roman Catholic Cathedral in Southwark, at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning by the Very Rev. D. O'Meara. Other prelates who will assist are Dr. Cotter, bishop of Portsmouth, and Dr. Amigo, bishop of Southwark. A great procession will march to the church. It will be symbolic of the silent sorrow of Ireland. There will be no music of any kind. Scotland Yard has arranged for a heavy police guard to protect the marchers from interference and to prevent any disorders. The streets through which the procession moves will be lined with policemen.

High Tension in Eris.
London, Oct. 26.—The death of another Sinn Féin hunger striker, Joseph Murphy, in the Cork jail, fifteen hours after the death of Terence Mac Swiney has aroused feeling in Ireland to a high pitch and the whole country was today under the greatest armed guard of British soldiers and policemen in its history. Firing broke out in Cork during the night. Men wearing the uniform of British policemen motored to the center of the city and fired a volley of thirty shots which smashed many shop windows, according to a dispatch from that city. There were many persons in the streets. They were thrown into panic by the shooting. The harbor board at Cork had placed the flag at half mast in honor of the memory of the lord mayor, Terence Mac Swiney, but the British troops forced the officials to haul down the flag entirely.

Two civilians were killed in an outbreak at Thurles and another was wounded. According to information from the town, the civilians were held up by masked men wearing British uniforms.

There was a serious situation at Brighton where rioting broke out yesterday, causing the death of one person. Several others were injured in clashes between Orangemen and Republicans. Heavy forces of British soldiers and "black and tan" policemen have been moved to strategic positions throughout Ireland, ready for an emergency.

Body Still in Brixton.
The body of Terence Mac Swiney remained all night in Brixton jail in a plain glass topped coffin. Outside in the streets crowds gathered but were kept moving by the great force of 500 foot and mounted police on duty. Men and women drew back from the police lines and dropped to their knees in prayer.

The Home Office announced that the inquest would not be held until tomorrow. Under the law, the inquest must take place within twenty-four hours after death of the person over whom it is to be held, but the Home Office delayed official action in this case in hope that the public feeling would abate within the meantime.

The Daily News is authority for the statement that all the members of the Sinn Féin Parliament have signified their intention of coming to London from Ireland for the Mac Swiney funeral services.

Family Watches Over Body.

A death watch over Mac Swiney's body was established in Brixton jail and members of the family took turns in watching at the coffin. John Mac Swiney, the brother who was with the lord mayor when the latter died Monday morning, and his two sisters, Annie and Mary, sat by the coffin or knelt at its foot in prayer. The three Sinn Féin hunger strikers who have given up their lives for Irish freedom are: Terence Mac Swiney, who died in Brixton jail in the seventy-fourth day of his self-imposed fast; Michael Fitzgerald, who died in the Cork jail in the sixteenth day of his hunger strike; and Joseph Murphy who died in Cork jail after a hunger strike of seven days.

Whether Mac Swiney's body will be taken to Ireland for burial was not certain today. Sinn Féin leaders desire to have the body taken first to Dublin to rest in state before a public funeral is held at Cork, the lord mayor's home town.

Bombing Church Sued.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26.—Two suits of $10,000 each have been filed in the Circuit Court here, one by Mrs. E. R. Ritz, the other by Mrs. S. J. Floyd, both of Birmingham, against the John Robinson Church. Damages to the suits mentioned are asked for the alleged use of improper language by an officer in the presence of children. Jack Ritz, the father, who is alleged to have used the language which has resulted in the two suits, was arrested and fined $100 and cost of court in a local justice court just before the suits were filed.

STRUGGLE FOR GREEK THRONE

As Result of Alexander's Death—Allies Will Probably Finally Dictate Rules—May Be Regency, Republic or Monarchy.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 26.—A dramatic diplomatic struggle for control of the Greek throne was promised today as a result of the death of King Alexander in Athens yesterday from blood poisoning. Three courses are open, but the final decision probably will be dictated by the allies. A regency may be proclaimed; a foreign prince may be selected as Alexander's successor, or a republic may be established with Premier Venizelos as president. The names of Prince Arthur of Connaught and Prince Sixtus of Bourbon-Parma have been suggested as possible successors to the throne.

A dispatch from Athens said that preparations are under way for a great state funeral. Alexander was the second son of former King Constantine. He was born in 1893 and ascended the throne on July 17, 1917, three days after the expulsion of Constantine from Greece by the allies. His official designation was "King of the Hellenes." The Greek crown prince, George, was not allowed to succeed his father, because of his pro-German sympathies.

Alexander was bitten by a monkey on October 2 while protecting a pet dog from the animal. Blood poisoning developed. A noted French specialist was rushed to Athens to consult with the physician already in attendance. The king's morganatic wife, Aspasia Manos, arrived in Athens recently and has installed in the royal palace where she nursed her royal husband.

TAFT SEER; OTHERS LIARS, SAYS COX

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Kenova, W. Va., Oct. 26.—With a tribute to William Howard Taft's "gift of prophecy," Governor James M. Cox today bade farewell to West Virginia and entered upon a strenuous three days' stump campaign of Ohio, his home state.

Mr. Taft, the governor insists, possesses the power of foretelling events, inasmuch as he predicted "about a year ago in West Virginia," that labor and the churches would endorse the League of Nations. Judge Taft also predicted, Governor Cox said, that the women, if given the vote, would cast their ballots for the league.

In the past week," Governor Cox continued, "it is perfectly evident that Judge Taft possesses the power to read the future. From the pulpit and the congregation comes the same story of religious terror. No class has been reading the league more industriously than labor. I found miners in the mountains of this state thoroughly familiar with it; and the Republican leaders are having trouble with their women's meetings—all of which bears eloquent tribute to Judge Taft's foresight.

Newspapers of several West Virginia towns which the governor stopped in today printed questions regarding his "labor record" which the governor maintains are prompted by the Republican National Committee. To the charge that he had used convict labor and soldiers to break strikes, the governor replied that it was a "downright lie" and that editors of the newspapers in question rise in their places and confront him.

PASTOR SURPRISED.

Missionary Society Teaches Him Faith and Devotion.

The Missionary Society of the A. M. E. Zion Church took the pastor and family by surprise last night when they entered the parsonage in a body and took possession. The table was spread with everything that was attractive and good and the pastor and family were invited to partake of the feast. Mrs. Minnie Walker spoke in behalf of the society and expressed their desire for further service and cooperation with the pastor.

The pastor in response thanked the society for their presence and assured them of his appreciation of their service and the spirit of love they have manifested. He reminded them of the responsibility of their calling and the great work to be done through missionary endeavor. A splendid donation was left the pastor and the party returned home.

Big Bark Over Board Body.

The continued bad breaking Monday of a dog belonging to Jeremiah Kitzroger, a farmer near Goshen, as the animal stood behind a stone wall at the roadside, led to an investigation and the discovery that Kitzroger was lying dead near the wall. He had been out gathering nuts and apparently had died of heart disease.

Shot While Hunting.

While hunting near Cairo on Sunday, Arthur Speer of Saugerties was accidentally shot in both legs by a fellow hunter who fired simultaneously with him at a rabbit. He was attended by Dr. John C. Kemp, who succeeded in removing most of the shot. The wounds are not considered serious.

RALLY TONIGHT AT SAUGERTIES

Former Governor Whitman, Mrs. Hildreth and Judge Cunningham To Speak At Big Meeting There—"The Spoilers" Postponed.

Former Governor Charles S. Whitman, Mrs. Albert Hildreth and Judge William D. Cunningham of the court of claims will be the speakers tonight at a big Republican rally to be held at the Maxwell opera house at Saugerties under the auspices of the Harding and Coolidge Club of Ulster county. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock and music will be furnished by Sickles's Band.

On account of the mass meeting at the Maxwell opera house, the Lutheran Brotherhood of Saugerties has postponed the presentation of "The Spoilers," which was to have been given this evening at the Orpheum Theatre at Saugerties. In order to afford everybody in Saugerties an opportunity to hear former Governor Whitman, Mrs. Hildreth and Judge Cunningham.

Former Governor Whitman has spoken in Ulster county many times and always has been accorded a hearty reception. Mrs. Hildreth is one of the most active women campaign workers in the state and Judge Cunningham's ability as a speaker has caused him to be in constant demand by the Republican state committee.

Many Kingstonians expect to attend the Saugerties rally and will make the trip by automobile.

HAYS CONFIDENT, AWAITS TUESDAY

People Have Not Been Fooled By Cox's Camouflage of Real Issues and His Ward Heeler Methods Have Lowered Dignity.

(By Will H. Hays.)

Chairman of Republican National Committee.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 26.—The American people, in overwhelming numbers, are going to vote on next Tuesday for a complete housecleaning at Washington and the restoration of a responsive and responsible Republican administration of national affairs.

Eight years of maladministration and misrule is enough. The Democratic party can expect a sweeping condemnation on the record it has made.

I look for Republican victory next Tuesday because I believe in the American people's common sense and I believe that this conviction will not miscarry at the polls.

I believe the American people now know the meaning of Wilsonism. They know the cost. They know that it has kept us out of peace for two hectic years, despite an ardent and cunning pretense of beatific monopoly upon all pacifist aspirations; and they are fully alive to the fact that Wilsonism would prove counterfeited in keeping them out of war in the years to come.

The American people know that the Wilson party is trade-marked, not only with all its recently demonstrated incapacity, wanton extravagance and reckless wastes, but also with traditional historic and consistent Democratic impotence to meet crises; and they are fully alive to the danger of longer gambling with the tremendous responsibilities of an already too-long-dodged American reconstruction.

Governor Cox has left no cheap sensation unattempted; he has exhausted the dictionary of malignant epithet, he has lowered presidential dignity and campaign standards to ward heeling, soap box levels in his desperate quest for votes. Canvassing facts with cunning phrases and reckless rhetoric, he may swindle history in being recorded as a presidential candidate, but neither he nor his followers have fooled the American people.

The rebuke of the Democratic party and its leadership will be one of the most decisive in history.

JAP DISARMAMENT

Not To Come Unless U. S. Joins League of Nations.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Tokio, Oct. 26.—Until the United States joins the league of nations Japan will not decrease armaments. It was announced today. This decision has already been communicated to the Japanese envoys who will attend the league of nations meeting in Geneva next month, so that they will know what line to follow in the deliberations.

Japan holds that limitation of armaments with the United States out of the league of nations would be ineffective and that it would be detrimental to Japanese interests.

JURY FINDS AGAINST DIBBLE

Evidently Believes Witnesses Who Say He Walked Against Moving Auto of Mary Lay—Court Reserves Decision on Givens's Claim Against Payne.

No cause of action was the verdict brought in by the jury in the case of William Dibble against Mary Lay, an action brought to recover for injuries received by the plaintiff when he was struck by the defendant's automobile on Broadway near Cornell street. Mr. Dibble received injuries about the head and body and was confined to the hospital for some time and after being released from the hospital was unable to work for some time. He sought to recover for the amount of the doctor's bills, hospital expenses and for loss of wages while laid up. Defendant claimed she did not strike the plaintiff through negligence on her part but that the rear of her automobile came in contact with Mr. Dibble as he walked from the curb toward the center of the street to take a trolley car which was approaching. Witnesses stated that Mr. Dibble walked into the rear of the car as it passed.

The action brought by Albert Givens, a former employee at the Col. O. H. Payne estate at West Park, against Payne Whitney and another, to recover a sum of money under the will of Col. Payne, was next taken up. At the time of Col. Payne's death he left a will by which certain of the employees who had been in his employ were left certain sums of money, varying according to the length of their service with him. These sums ranged from a small amount to as large as $50,000, that amount being given the housekeeper who had been in Col. Payne's employ for years.

By the will the only people who were to benefit by the will were those who were customarily employed in the "household" at the residence of Colonel Payne either at West Park or New York city. It is in this term in the will which the executors contend would bar Mr. Givens from recovering, they being of the opinion that Mr. Givens was not a member of the "household" but was simply an employee on the place and that Colonel Payne only intended that employees who were members of the immediate household should benefit by the will. Mr. Givens contends that he was a member of the immediate household and should benefit under that clause in the will.

When Colonel Payne first came to West Park and began the erection of a residence which cost several millions of dollars, a great number of people were employed in the erection of the mansion and buildings. One of them was Albert Givens, an electrician. After the work of construction was completed he was retained by Mr. Mason, the then superintendent of the estate, as the resident electrician and since 1911 Mr. Givens had been employed on the estate and was at the time of Colonel Payne's death.

Several of the employees of the estate were sworn Monday, testifying that Mr. Givens was employed in the mansion and that his duties were in the house caring for the electrical fixtures and equipment. They after his work was done in the mansion he was supposed to go out on the place and do such other work as was necessary, but that his first duty was to the house. Julian Burroughs, a former superintendent of the estate, testified that he had found Mr. Givens employed as a superintendent of the estate and that he had continued in the employ of Colonel Payne, taking care of the mansion in the electrical line. Mr. Givens's instructions were to take care of the electrical equipment in the house first, but that he sometimes went to the power house and assisted the engineer there. Cross-examined, Mr. Givens stated that he had taken care of the electrical equipment in the other buildings and cottages but that he always went to the mansion first and put things in order there before touching any other work. This had been his instructions.

At the close of the plaintiff's case defendant moved for a dismissal on the grounds that plaintiff had not proved a case. This was denied by Judge Harbuck and the defendant put on several witnesses. The former housekeeper was sworn and testified to her knowledge of what duties Mr. Givens had. He was employed, she said, to care for the entire electric equipment, and his duties were not confined to the mansion. He came in and made repairs when ordered to do so, but was under the direction of the engineer who worked in the power house.

Mr. Givens testified that he had been given a room in the mansion for a work room and had been given the key to the room and told that the room was for his use. The housekeeper testified that the room was a storeroom and was used by Mr. Givens to store material in.

At the conclusion of the defendant's case, Judge Harbuck stated that he thought there was no question for the jury to decide and the case was taken from the jury and decision reserved. Attorneys on both sides were instructed to be brief.

The question involved in what did Colonel Payne mean by the words "customarily employed in my household" and what constitute a household. The executors have drawn the line of household employees and excluded Mr. Givens.

Beside the immediate employees of the household, there were a number of others employed by Colonel Payne, who received money by special mention in the will, all of them being old employees.

Beside the housekeeper, who received $25,000 under the will, and

BAPTIZE NEGRO HELD FOR MURDER

On Sunday afternoon the Rev. A. L. Hughes, pastor of the St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, Foxhall avenue, with a choir of six women visited the Ulster county jail and held service for George Watson, an inmate being held for trial on an indictment for murder in the first degree. The Rev. Hughes delivered a forceful sermon, and the choir sang most sweetly. During the service Watson was baptized.

MYSTERY BULLET SMASHES WINDOW

Simon Winchell, who resides at 37 Van Deusen street, is very anxious to ascertain where a bullet that crashed through a window at the rear of his house, Sunday afternoon, came from. The bullet was a large one and appears to have come from a rifle. After breaking the window and entering the room it embedded itself in the woodwork of a bed. A daughter of Mr. Winchell sits by this window frequently but fortunately was not there when the bullet crashed through the glass. Directly behind the Winchell house is the residence of E. Otis Van Aken and as the rifle was fired evidently a long distance away it is a mystery why the bullet did not hit some other object than the window of the Winchell residence in its course.

ALSEN WORKER IS FOUND DEAD

A workman named M. Saulski, a Pole by birth, was found dead in the stock room at the Alsen cement works at Alsen at about 9:30 Saturday night. His being in the stock room was against the rules of the establishment and the cause of his death was not apparent, except that the body was lying in one of the cement bins which was half full of cement. He might have fallen in accidentally and been smothered, or have fallen in as the result of an attack of heart disease or apoplexy.

DAIRYMEN NEARING GOAL

Nearly 40,000 of the 50,000 Needed Have Signed Cooperative Association Contracts to Pool Milk—Balance of Signers Expected Soon.

On Monday, October 25, there were 20,746 signed cooperative contracts on file in the Dairymen's League office. This includes 4,000 signed contracts that were filled before the present campaign began. There is no way of accurately telling how many more signed contracts are in the hands of the 1,100 local field secretaries of the Dairymen's League. Hundreds of meetings are again being held all over league territory to make further study of the cooperative contract, and these meetings are already resulting in renewed enthusiasm and will, within a few days, bring the total of signed contracts well above the 50,000 which the directors have stated must be on hand before pooling is made operative.

After the announcement of the sale of October milk was made, there was considerable slackening in the signing of the contracts and the orders for pooling for many of the dairymen, having sold their milk for at least another month, did not see the urgency of haste and wanted more time to study the contract. This study has now been given it, and all farmers are realizing more and more that the cooperative association is the only solution for the many difficulties which all milk producers are now facing. The result is that as many other meetings hold throughout league territory at the end of last week, the spirit of cooperation and the determination to get back of the plan were stronger than ever. This spirit was intensified by the notice which the milk distributors served on the league last week that a considerable number of fluid milk plants will be closed on November 1.

CITY'S ANSWER HOLDS PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION HAS NO JURISDICTION IN GAS COMPANY'S RATE APPEAL

Gives as Reasons For Opposing Increased Rates, Profits in Electrical Department, Poorer Gas and Enforcement of Company's Contract With City.

The application of the Kingston Gas Association, promulgated and conducted an intensive publicity campaign with an organization and a Bureau of Information, for the purpose of having the established standards of gas lowered and the existing schedule of rates increased. That the object of procuring a reduction in the standard of gas was to decrease the cost of production thereof. That the said reduction in such standard was made to enable the said gas companies, including petitioner, to manufacture gas more easily and cheaply, and to enable them to furnish gas at less cost than could be properly done under the standards then existing; and there was no apportionment of the gas rates of petitioner to the reduction in the said standard and quality of gas. That the said reduction in the required quality of gas decreased the cost of production thereof and thereby afforded relief to the companies including petitioner, to the same extent as would a proportionate increase in the gas rates.

For a fifth separate and distinct answer, respondent alleges, Seventh—That the petitioner, the Kingston Gas and Electric Company, is also engaged in the electrical business and sells electric current for lighting, heating and power purposes, in the City of Kingston and vicinity. That the said gas and electric businesses are conducted together as one business with one office and store building in the City of Kingston, and one office force, and with various items and elements of expense in connection with the gas and electrical departments which are properly chargeable to both departments together, and which cannot be fairly distributed to the two departments as separate and detached business units.

That, upon information and belief, the electrical business has been and is very profitable and that petitioner's net revenue and gains therefrom are large; and that the total and collective returns from both of said departments are sufficient to enable petitioner to properly conduct, operate and administer its entire business with adequate public service.

For a sixth, separate and distinct answer, respondent alleges,

Eighth—That the said Public Service Commission has no jurisdiction over the matters prayed for in the petition herein and no jurisdiction to hear or determine the questions raised in the petition or this proceeding, and has no power to rescind, annul, or modify said contract between petitioner and respondent or to take any action or grant any order which will have the result of a rescission or modification of said contract.

Wherefore, the respondent respectfully prays:

First—That the said contract be held to be binding and effective, and the petition herein be dismissed, and an order be made herein denying the application of the petitioner.

Second—That should the defense raised herein of contractual relationship be overruled, and the other issues tried, the following requirements be made and the following procedure adopted:

1. That in determining the necessity of or the amount of any increase in the price of gas, the same be considered from the standpoint of the operation of and revenue from both gas and electric plants of petitioner in the event that the commission deem it proper so to consider the question.

2. That the petitioner furnish and file with the commission and the city a complete inventory and appraisal in detail of its entire physical property, together with such statement of revenues and expenses of its entire business as will furnish a fair average over a period of at least five years.

3. That in the event the commission, after due hearing and investigation, shall establish increased rates, because existing conditions warrant it, then at any time the present abnormal situation shall end and the conditions existing shall change and after the expiration of one year, the city or any group of citizens, as provided by the public service law of the state, may make application to the commission for a hearing and investigation for a modification of any said order increasing said rates, and for a modification of said rates, to the present rates or to such other rates as shall then be deemed fair and just, and in such case the burden of sustaining increased rates shall be upon the said petitioner.

Shorty runs into
"Snapper" Leebo!

Atlanta, Ga.

Wednesday

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning while waiting on an appointment down Peachtree St. "Snap" wanted to know a bucketfull about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us, old apple seed," says Snapper, "you're on the inside!" "Snapper" still has that mighty annoying way of saying: But that doesn't surprise me!" Pete, Someday I'll soak him. Maybe that will be a surprise!

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R.T. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily, what does the old bird sputter but:—"why—shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from 'Uncle Sam' every work-day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! why not? Smokers insist on Camels!"

Then "Snap" got to spilling some real Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "write the Reynolds folks for me that I travel and talk some with the world in a year. And, I want you to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage; I've heard enough fine things said about 'em to fill a fat volume! 'That's my brand', 'Camels are a wonderful cigarette', 'gee, but this is like getting money from home'. etc

"And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meets the universal taste! That's it! Now get me right—they ALL open their shutters for Camels! You'll find that all over the nation! And, that's the Koke story, old golf ball!"

Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely

"graveyard tones"—whatever that may be—have indicated them toward industry of a more steady sort.

This story, like many of the other tales coming out of the South, puts too severe a strain upon the credulity of the reflecting observer. Imaginative makers of newspaper "copy" journeying through that section too often build up a flimsy foundation or no foundation at all except perhaps one about fifty years old. Men threatening to try the Ku Klux method might be willing to take the risk of "driving" negroes to the cotton fields, but they would hardly undertake to force a resentful negro to become a cook, fearing unpleasant consequences in the form of poison in the coffee or the pie. Nobody expects such methods to solve the labor and servant problems in South Carolina or anywhere else, and in no part of the country will the easy arrangements known to our grandfathers or even our fathers ever be witnessed again. The man or woman who wants plenty of cheap labor or plenty of cheap household help will have to go to South Africa or some other remote region where there are relatively few whites and millions of dark natives just stepping out of barbarism.

AGRICULTURE.

Tom, Tom, the piper's son,

 Join a pig club, raise your own!

Each proved good cow in the herd means a profit; but the more poor cows there are, the greater the loss.

The right to vote—is a privilege which makes intelligent consideration of the questions at hand a duty.

Remember that standing timber will keep; it can wait over a period of low prices without rapid deterioration.

Most of the things put off till tomorrow should have been done yesterday. A careful planning of work this winter will enable you next spring to do today's job today.

Farm study courses are an investment for these long winter evenings which may pay good dividends when you're rushed next summer. A postal card to the College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., brings full information.

A few minutes given at a definite time each day will keep a record of the farm business; and with accurate figures at the end of the season a man can see at a glance where he is making money and where he is losing it.

HOW WILL THE VETERANS VOTE?

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 26.—How will the veterans of all wars in which the United States has participated in the past half century vote November 2? The largest veteran vote will of course be cast by the men of the world war, but there are still many thousands of survivors of the civil war, the war with Spain and the insurrection in the Philippines, as well as the China expedition and the Mexican border expedition. World war veterans number more than 4,000,000; there are more than 350,000 survivors of the war with Spain, and the Grand Army still has a formidable membership in every state.

Grand Army veterans, having assisted at the birth of the Republican party and freed the slaves, a policy of that party, will on November 2, as in the past years, vote practically a solid Republican ballot.

Spanish war veterans, who whipped Spain, pacified the Philippines, and defeated the Chinamen at Peikien, recollecting that it was under the administration of the lamented McKinley and partly under the leadership of the immortal Roosevelt that victory perched on Old Glory, when they served the United States on the battlefields, will no doubt, in a vast majority, vote the Republican ticket. These veterans will also recall that it was Republican Congresses that gave them pensions, and enacted legislation to care for their widows and orphans.

How will the world war veterans vote? They will all vote Republican if they will reflect on the conduct of the war by the Wilson administration, and the bloody sacrifices they underwent on the battlefields of France because a Democratic administration and a Democratic congress refused to prepare for the war, and having plunged the country into the European conflict, botched the management of the war.

Let none make the mistake that "Wilson Won the War," as now claimed by Democratic stump speakers. The invincible American doughboy won the war in spite of Wilson, and all of Wilson's monumental mistakes and blunders.

The world war veteran knows that throughout the whole war his comfort and safety were sacrificed to the interests of the boundedly slacker and infamous profiteer.

He knows that both his comfort and safety were sacrificed to the interests of the boundedly slacker and infamous profiteer.

He knows that while he froze in the mud of France President Wilson was feted by the King of England, a country that Mr. Wilson has said "is fit to live in and die in."

He knows that while $640,000,000 was appropriated for aircraft, few if any machines reached the fighting front, and he remembers that he had to fight German aircraft with nothing but rifles and his own dauntless heart.

He knows that Baker located most of the training camps in the south, that section favored by the Virginian Wilson, for political reasons, and he well remembers the shortage of blankets and clothing that existed in these camps, to say nothing of the rotten "chow" and the lack of medical and hospital facilities.

He knows that his division commander had to borrow guns from the French when the line advanced, and he remembers the lack of equipment when he "went over the top" at daybreak.

He remembers that the pacifist Baker coddled the pacifist and the slacker and only lately refused to make public the names of the slackers.

He knows that none of the great grafters of the war in this country not a single one has been brought to justice by the Wilson administration. Scores of these unwhipped scoundrels, who fattened on the country in her hour of peril, are now enjoying their stolen spoils—millions of dollars—while the veteran is hard pushed to make a living.

Knowing all these things, no one need wonder how he will vote on November 2.

WARNS ABOUT FOREST FIRES

Massachusetts Had to Suspend Hunting Season and It is Hoped Hunters Will Be Careful Here—Blazes in Catskills and Adirondacks.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Oct. 25.—Last night's rain was not heavy enough to abate the forest fires in the Adirondacks and Catskills. New fires breaking out at the rate of eight or ten a day, have caused Conservation Commissioner George D. Pratt to issue a serious warning to all hunters, and others who may be using the woods at this season that not only the existence of the forest themselves, but also their own enjoyment of them depends upon the utmost care with fire.

Reports from the Conservation Commission's field force indicate that practically all of these fires have been started by hunters and smokers. At present the Adirondacks are filled with deer and partridge hunters and squirrel hunters. Most of the leaves have now fallen from the trees and have covered the ground with a dry tinder which, according to Commissioner Pratt, forms a very dangerous fire menace. A match or cigarette carelessly dropped among these leaves, he says, will, if there is any wind, cause a fire which it is almost impossible to check until it burns to a point where the wind cannot reach it or until the wind subsides.

Commenting upon the forest fire situation throughout New York State, Commissioner Pratt stated today: "Although practically every one of the fires so far reported has been put out the day it started, the serious menace will continue to exist until we have a good downfall of rain. At present our mountain observers are handicapped in detecting fresh fires by the fall of smoke which hangs over the forested regions. The type of fire which has chiefly occurred so far, while bad, has not been so destructive as some fires that have occurred in years gone by. The present fires are running chiefly in the dead leaves, destroying the duff of forest carpet and killing the young trees, but not consuming the large timber. If not abated at once, however, a small fire may readily assume dangerous proportions. The governor of the state of Massachusetts found it necessary on Sunday to suspend indefinitely the hunting season, in order to get hunters out of the woods; it is sincerely to be hoped that such drastic steps will not have to be taken in New York state.

Of twenty-eight fires reported to the Conservation Commission as having broken out in New York state within the last three days, the majority were in the Sacandaga Valley, north of Northville.

In the Catskills there were small fires in Windham, Hunter and Shokan, which were promptly extinguished. A fire of two hundred acres in the section of the Shawangunk mountains known as the "Traps" between Lake Minnekauck and Lake Mohonk, started late Sunday afternoon and on Monday was completely extinguished.

AT THE THEATRES

Olive Thomas At Keene's—A Tom Mix Sensation At Auditorium.
"Youthful Folly" starring Olive Thomas at Keene's tonight is a story original in every way. Miss Thomas reflects credit on herself as an actress and as an author. "Youthful Folly" falls into the wide category of society dramas with enough action in it to register melodrama. The scenes are laid in the south and in New York and full of adventure. Burton Holmes adventures stories and a Kinogram news weekly are also programmed.

Tomorrow "Uncle Sam of Freedom Ridge," and Corinne Griffith in "Bah's Candidate," are attractions. Tom Mix in "Three Gold Coins" at the Auditorium offers a thrill in every foot of film and is full of adventure and romance with action at every turn of the crank. A two part western story starring "Al" Jennings is also programmed. Tomorrow "The Almighty Dollar," a five part melodrama of the curse of money.

"Adam and Eva," this season's comedy success, direct from a run of over a year at the Longacre Theatre, New York, will come to the Kingston Opera House Saturday matinee and night.

The play is the joint contribution of Guy Bolton and George Middleton two authors who have been responsible for some of the most successful plays of the past ten years. F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, the producers of "Adam and Eva," promises to send here a cast and production equal in every respect to the one which ran so successfully in New York.

New Counterfeit $20 Note.

Another new counterfeit $20 Federal Reserve note is in circulation. It is described as follows: On the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, Missouri; check letter "C." W. G. McAfee, secretary of the treasury, John Burke, treasurer of the United States; portrait of Cleveland. This counterfeit is printed from photographic plates, on two pieces of paper between which a few silk threads have been distributed. The pasting together of the paper makes the bill too thick. It is also about a half inch shorter than the genuine. The number of this counterfeit is J239060A. The back of the note is blue instead of green.

HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT

Apparently Assured But Location Not To Be Known Soon.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 26.—Though Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier may be matched within the next few days no announcement or site for the bout is expected at this time. It was said in boxing circles here today.

The state boxing commission, it is said, will issue no permit for a heavyweight bout until after election and even then the state of the proposed heavyweight championship match is doubtful.

That Tex Rickard and Charles B. Cochran will join hands in staging the match if it is held in this country, however, is now practically certain.

NO "FLU" EPIDEMIC.

State Health Officials Fear None This Fall.

There is no cause to fear an influenza epidemic this fall, state health department officials declared yesterday. Reports show 21 cases last week in the state, including New York city. There were 22 the same week in 1919, and thousands in 1918.

Dr. Royal Copeland, New York city health commissioner, has sent out a warning of possible danger this year, but state officials are of the opinion the epidemic will not make another visit.

While pneumonia cases have been reported in New York city, calls at a total of 125 is reported for pneumonia last week. Albany recently had 11, Schenectady and Rochester counties, none.

The Pioneer Spirit

RAILROADS are like pioneers. When they enter a territory, civilization and prosperity invariably follow closely. American railroads have been not only forerunners of progress but leaders in the growth and development of localities whose transportation needs were served.

The New York Central Lines strive always to maintain this tradition of service to individual communities as well as to the nation as a whole. It was for the greater convenience of the public generally that the Grand Central Terminal, where an average of 115,372 passengers are served each day, was planned and built; yet the Engineering News-Record, in an editorial on September 9th, generously gave the development larger significance:

"The term 'Grand Central' no longer designates a mere railroad station, but a large and impressive civic center. The story of its development in the last twenty years is a romance. Where there were formerly smoking stacks and four-story buildings, there are now handsome structures—office buildings, stores, hotels, apartments and clubs. The terminal area itself, because of its attractiveness, has become the heart of a still greater development, radiating from it in every direction. In fact the whole surrounding neighborhood now goes by the name of Grand Central District, and is one of the chief business centers of the metropolis. As a civic as well as a railroad development, it is unique and stands as a monument to the foresight of the New York Central Railroad."

In every locality served, the New York Central Lines necessarily must aid civic growth, not merely as an employer of labor, a carrier of commerce and an artery of trade, but by linking the surrounding farm areas to profitable markets.

Those who have invested their savings in railroad securities have the satisfaction of knowing that they have not merely aided in railroad development, but have helped, and are helping, to open the gates of national prosperity and progress.

MOVIE SALARIES AS THEY ARE

It is very interesting and enlightening in this day of high sounding talk about moving picture salaries to sit down earnestly and try to figure out the average pay of the people who appear in the camera's eye, says C. H. Christie, the famous comedy producer. Along with these figures it is also worthy of note to observe the average length of time the various personages have been in the profession. For our purposes of comparison we are taking an average week in our studio when three two-reel Christie comedies and one special six-reel production are under way; separating the players and staff in such.

The facts and figures follow: In the feature production one man is getting $1,500 a week—for the length of the picture, which will be about six or seven weeks. This player has been on the stage eight years and in pictures one year. In the same picture the total salary of one director, two assistants, two cameramen, two second cameramen and their two assistants aggregates $1,635, of which the largest share goes to the director, who has been behind a camera for ten years. The lump salary of two girls playing leading roles is $700 weekly—also for the length of the picture. Both have been starred before. In the picture are four character men whose experience in pictures ranges from two to six years. One gets $225, one $250 and the other two get $200 each, for the length of their engagement. A supporting man who has been a professional for eighteen years gets $400. Four minor characters get from $50 to $100. Extra talent for this particular picture totals about $300 weekly, but this is unusually small, nearly all of the parts being main characters played by real actors. There's $5,660 in salaries weekly for the feature.

Working on the comedies are 3 directors, 3 assistants, 6 cameramen and 3 assistant cameramen whose lump salary is $1,480 weekly. There are fourteen people in stock who get from $40 to $250 per week which aggregates $2,100 a week. The weekly extra talent for these pictures averages between $1,500 and $2,000, out of which some of the people get $5, $7.50 or $10 daily. Of these latter, 60 per cent have been working in pictures at least a year.

Now for the overhead salary list—20 laboratory people, 4 cutters, 3 wardrobe ladies, 2 artists, 1 technical man and 2 draftsmen, 2 plaster men, 16 office employees, 12 electrical and power plant men, 14 property men, 32 carpenters and mill men, 5 drivers, 8 painters and paper hangers make a combined weekly wage of $5,100. Of course, this does not include construction, rental, transportation, raw stock or other materials, just an aggregate of about $16,000 a week for salaries, of which as the figures show, the sums are about equally divided between the players and staff.

FLUID MILK PLANTS TO CLOSE

Borden's Bay 22 of Their Plant: Will Close Nov. 1 and Others Are Expected To Throttle Likewise In Fight Between Dealers and Producers—November Milk $3.65. The Dairymen's League News says:

The directors and county presidents of the Dairymen's League, meeting in New York city on October twentieth and twenty-first, voted to recommend to the members that league milk for November be sold at the same price and under the same conditions as prevailed in October; that is, $3.65 per hundred pounds for three per cent milk at the 200-210 milk zone from New York. This recommendation was not made until after the directors had discussed every feature of the whole milk and market situation and its bearing upon prices.

The $3.65 price is under the cost of production as figured by the Warrenton Formula, and it is contrary to the custom that the price to the producer should advance from month to month during the fall period because of increasing costs. But, in view of market conditions and of the lower prices which are prevailing in all commodities, the directors thought best to accept the $3.65 price.

At an earlier conference which the league had with the New York Milk Dealers' Conference Board, the league was given the impression that the $3.65 price for November would be acceptable to the milk distributors although this sentiment was not expressed in so many words by the dealers.

However, shortly after the dealers heard of the recommendation of the directors, on the November price, they asked for a conference with the league while the board of directors was still in session and at this conference the dealers informed the league that if the $3.65 price prevailed it would be necessary for the fluid dealers to close many of their plants and the Borden's Farm Products' Company handed the league a list of thirty-two fluid plants which would be closed on November first. It was understood that the other distributors would send in lists of plants to close later. However the Sheffield Company one of the two largest distributors have since accepted the November price and agreed to keep all their plants open.

Realizing that this was simply another step in the dealers' campaign to try to force the organized milk producers into a hole during this unsettled period, the board of directors immediately reaffirmed their recommendation that the price be $3.65, and voted again to recommend to the members that unless the dealers kept all of their plants open and bought milk in the same way as in October, no league milk be sold. This decision was unanimous on the part of the board of directors.

As the situation stands now, therefore, it appears that the dealers are determined to force the dairymen into a general fight.

SAYS ARTICLE X IS UNIMPORTANT

Leon Bourgeois Asserts It May be Cut Out Without Hurting Covenant—Members of League May Propose Amendments.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Brussels, Oct. 25.—Leon Bourgeois, president of the Council of the League of Nations, gave his views to American newspaper correspondents Sunday on Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations.

M. Bourgeois said that Article X could be eliminated without in any way modifying the effectiveness of the League of Nations, and declared also that it was not considered so important by Europeans as by Americans.

Today the following authorized statement regarding the interview was issued through M. Comert, the principal press official of the League of Nations, who had originally arranged the interview:

"M. Bourgeois to the American correspondents last night said he had been astonished to see the political discussion in America concentrated around Article X of the covenant."

"Article X is not in fact anything more than the moral foundation of the covenant. All that is efficacious in the covenant is set forth in other articles indicating penalties and sanctions."

At the close of the interview and after M. Bourgeois had withdrawn, the question was raised among the American correspondents as to the effect of his utterances on the presidential election in the United States. It was thereupon agreed to withhold the statement until M. Bourgeois could review it in this light and give his authority for its publication.

M. Comert informed the correspondents this morning that he had explained to M. Bourgeois the importance of the remarks and requested M. Bourgeois to say whether he intended them to be published in the United States. M. Bourgeois replied, said M. Comert, that he understood the importance of what he was saying and was quite willing the interview should be printed.

The official statement issued today approved that part of the conversation of last night in which M. Bourgeois, replying to questions regarding the prospect of revision of the covenant by the General Assembly of the League of Nations, which will meet at Geneva November 15 next, said:

"The council of the league, being guardians of the covenant, are, of course, unable to go before the assembly with any project that alters the covenant, but individual states which are members of the league may, of course, propose such amendments as they see fit."

WINTER FATTENING

Of Cattle Requires Careful Attention, Say Experts.

The actual buying of cattle to be fattened during the fall and winter months is a simple matter. But it requires careful judgment on the part of the buyer to know when to buy and what to buy, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. An animal bought right can usually be disposed of at a profit.

Naturally the best time to buy feeders on the open market is when there is a heavy run and a limited demand. But when there is a little competition, especially competition between packers and feeders. Early fall buying, one year with another, is usually preferable; especially is this true in soft-corn years. Cattle should be purchased in time to consume the cornstalk fields and other coarse roughages before severe winter sets in.

In determining what class of cattle to buy, such factors as age, quality, uniformity, and condition of feeders, length of feeding period, kinds and amount of feeds, and market conditions should be considered.

Our cattle make greater daily gains, fatten more quickly and utilize coarser and rougher feeds more advantageously. Young cattle, all feeds considered, make more economical gains, but require a longer feeding period. Older cattle usually show more uniformity.

As a usual thing, a good quality animal of any of the recognized beef breeds should be sought for. Feeders showing dairy blood will not do as well as those of strictly beef blood, in putting on flesh in the region of the valuable cuts, and are always discriminated against in the market. However, certain conditions will warrant the feeding of common grades. A strong demand for good feeders and a sluggish market on common stock might mean more profit in feeding the cheaper cattle. But the kind that looks like the most for the money.

Dehorned cattle feed out to better advantage, ship to better advantage, and market to better advantage. Get the quality and age to suit, and if you have to take horns in addition, dehorn the cattle when they go into the feed lot. The purchase should be uniform in size, color, and quality. As a usual thing, thin feeders are the best buy. However, for a very short feed, cattle "warmed up" a little should be the better.

Market conditions for certain seasons of the year should help determine the kind of cattle to buy. A certain weight and quality of beef is in demand at certain times of the year. Be familiar with the general trend of the market according to seasons and feed the kind that will be in demand at the time you want to market.

ARMY SERVICE

So Attractive in Germany and Hawaii That Vacancies Quickly Fill.

Recruiting from the Army of Occupation now on duty in Germany will be resumed on November 1. For the infantry 200 men are needed, of whom 12 must be clerks, but only recruits of a high type, who can be quickly trained, will be accepted. When 310 infantry vacancies were thrown open on October 1 they were filled up so quickly that these enlistments for Germany had to be closed on October 6.

Major General P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the army, says: "The service in Germany has proved to be so attractive that the ranks there are always filled. Our chief difficulty is that regiments are apt to be over-enlisted before we can stop the recruiting officers from accepting more applicants, and we must send such men to the station for which they were accepted."

Equally popular is army service in Hawaii, and as a rule few recruits can be accepted for duty there. However, the 12th Field Artillery has left the United States for service in the mid-Pacific, and enlistments for this regiment are authorized in orders issued today.

In the old army new recruits had no choice in the selection of a regiment, and could not name any particular station. In the new peacetime army a man may either pick his own regiment or designate the part of the world to which he wishes to be sent.

CONCRETE ROAD

Between Coxackie and Ravena Near Completion.

The concrete construction of the new state road between Coxackie and Ravena is making excellent progress under the contractor, David Schoentag. The road is now fully half completed and the construction is going at the rate of 300 feet a day. The Coxackie section of the road being completed, the machinery is being moved to the New Baltimore section. If favorable weather continues, Contractor Schoentag expects to have the road entirely finished and ready to open by November 15.

This section of road will illustrate the permanent style of road now favored by Highway Commissioner Greene, of which many places are being built throughout the state, the late contracts averaging about fifty per cent concrete. The roadway of concrete is 18 feet wide with six feet shoulder on each side.

ULSTER COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

Reports Talk on Sunday School Work to Delegates at Opening Session—Those Who Registered Monday.

The opening session of the Ulster County Sunday School Convention was held at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Monday afternoon. The program for this convention shows the marked progress that has been made in the educational attitude of these conventions, for in place of many numbers on the program, and overcrowded days, there appeared addresses by experts in their line of Sunday school work, who spoke of such definite plans and methods as would be of real value in Sunday school teaching in the small or large Sunday school.

The first session was opened by the Rev. Henry W. Brink, superintendent of Gardiner, who conducted the devotional exercises, after which he introduced Prof. A. S. Goodrich, division superintendent, whose subject was "A Study of the Four Gospels." Really the address was a study of the authors of the four Gospels which proved to be interesting, informing and helpful. Matthew was shown to be a Jew of the Jews, a close follower of the law which the Jews worshipped almost as they did Jehovah, and therefore a man who could speak with authority to the Jews. His theme was that of Christ, the consummation of all the Old Testament prophecies, and his was the Gospel of the Kingdom, of the Father, and of Belief. He wrote of the past.

Mark was a Roman, and as the Roman world worshipped power, his Gospel was that of the all-powerful, of the Conqueror of self, of sin and of death. It was also the Gospel of activity, "immediate," being a word often used by Mark, whose preaching was the present.

Luke, a Greek slave, an artist and a doctor, was probably the most learned of the four Gospel authors. Where the Jews worshipped Jehovah and the Jewish law, and the Romans worshipped power, the Greeks worshipped the human physique. Luke, therefore, preached "The perfect man," but perfect physically, mentally and spiritually; and made perfect through suffering. Luke's Gospel, the speaker considered the Gospel of Song, saying that the foundation of the greatest music of the church was found in this Gospel.

The Gospel of John was counted as the summing up of all the three preceding Gospels, for John was a Christian. As the Christian worships love, John showed Christ as the greatest servant of all, through love, which was the new law. Where the other Gospels preached for the past, the present and future, John's Gospel was that of all eternity.

After the singing of a hymn, Mr. Brink introduced the second speaker of the afternoon, Prof. I. B. Burgess, state education superintendent, who took as his subject, "Keeping up a Teaching Staff." Prof. Burgess considered the subject which had been given to him an earnest of more purposeful and efficient work in our Sunday schools. These were the ways in which he would go about keeping up such a teaching staff.

First by widening the field of choice of teachers. He would not limit the possibilities of teachers to those already accustomed to teach but would go outside in an endeavor to secure the best and biggest men and women of Christian character in the community, whether or not they were members of the church desiring to secure additional teachers. He reminded his audience that Abraham Lincoln was not a member of the church, and told of himself securing a justice of the supreme court as a teacher in one Sunday school. Christ had said, "Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men."

The second impetus to keeping up the teaching staff, would be a widening of the curriculum, to suit the needs of the pupils and the skill and experience of the teachers.

Again, the teaching staff would be strengthened by the right management of substitute teachers, whom the speaker would choose with as much care as he did the regular teachers. He especially advocated the holding such teachers as might have to give up regular teaching for legitimate reasons, as substitute teachers, and above all, those mothers in the community, whose families being sufficiently established to so permit, out of whose Christian experience with children's development the greatest helpfulness from a teaching viewpoint could be gained.

Then Prof. Burgess would make more of the dignity of Sunday school teaching and its influence upon the country and world of tomorrow. Do we need Christian missionaries? Do we need Christian statesmen? Do we need a civilization founded upon belief in God and Christ? Do we need that humanity which shall find expression in a parliament of men, a Brotherhood of Nations? Where else shall we lay the foundation for all these great Christianizing factors but in the Sunday school! Then what more dignified calling can one find than that of the efficient, Christian Sunday school teacher!

The organization of classes of young people between the ages of 16 and 24, for teaching purposes was advocated, as that is the period in the life of young people when there is the strongest desire to serve, to lead, to help.

Finally, Prof. Burgess urged the necessity of proper training for such an important calling, describing the miniature normal schools of Sunday school teaching operating today, and closed with a description of the same and the appeal to all to pledge themselves to read at least five books on such training for Sunday school teaching during the year.

Those who registered on Monday were: Miss Alice E. Stevens, Tillson; Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Bent, Tillson; Mrs. Charles DeGraff, Port Jervis; Miss Mary Bogart, Ashokan; Miss Catherine M. Kinney, Tillson; Mrs. D. D. Taylor, Marlborough; Miss Luella Snyder, Hurley; Mrs. Walter S. Maines, Ellenville; Mrs. W. N. Ryder, Kingston; Mrs. E. D. Chipp, Kingston; The Rev. and Mrs. George E. Mead, South Rondout; Miss Ruth S. Barnhart, High Falls; Miss Kate Osterhout, Flatbush; Miss Anna Williams, Kingston; Miss Grace Hedrick, Mt. Marion; Lawrence French, Hurley; W. J. Cornell, Kingston.

In the evening, the Rev. Mr. Brink, superintendent, had charge of the devotional exercises of the meeting, the Rev. George M. Cranston offering prayer. The speaker of the evening was Prof. A. S. Goodrich, who took for his subject "Astronomy." His applications of the laws and facts of astronomy, a science all too little known, to the subject of Sunday school work, were clever, informing, and made a deep impression upon his hearers.

ASK HARDING FOR PEACE GUARANTY

Republican Want Assurance of New League or League of Some Kind and Force Possibility of Deadlock in Senate Again.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 26.—Samuel Colcord, publisher of New York; S. Parkes Giddman, pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn; William Allen White of Kansas and S. Homer Woodbridge of Massachusetts, on Sunday asked this question of Senator Harding:

"If the election fails to provide the two-thirds vote in the Senate for our entry into a league or association of nations for the preservation of peace upon a basis more satisfactory to you, will you advise and support our entry into the existing League of Nations with the Lodge reservations, or such revision of them as two-thirds of the Senate may approve?"

"The question does not call upon you to forsake or in any degree abate your determination to reject the League of Nations brought from Paris by President Wilson," wrote these men who form a committee appointed to represent a large number of Republican advocates of a world organization for peace.

"It leaves you free to put forth your utmost endeavors to 'scrap' the League of Nations, if we may use a popular term, in favor of a better realization through an association of nations which you may now or hereafter favor. It merely calls for an assurance that in the event you cannot realize your worthy ambitions and laudable hopes you will not follow the lamentable course of President Wilson and give the world nothing at all but damaging suspense and deadening disappointment."

This same committee, with an equal number of Democrats, presented a similar appeal to President Wilson in March, but it was flatly rejected. It is understood those Democrats are now writing a similar letter to Governor Cox.

The Republicans signing the document told Senator Harding they do not need the assurance they ask, but there are millions of Republicans, as well as Democratic friends of world peace, "who do not know you as well as we do, who are sick at heart over the failure of Democratic statesmanship to rise to the great responsibility."

"As ardent advocates of a world organization for peace we turn to the constructive statesmanship of the Republican party as our only hope," the committee wrote. "We appeal to you as to one possessed of the broad and open mind that will consult the will of the people and the enlightened statesmanship of the country in a wise and earnest effort to arrive at the best solution possible of this most vital question. We are willing to follow you in every effort to realize a better safeguard for peace that will receive the sanction of the statesmanship of the world."

The committee says it regards the possibility of a deadlock in the Senate which would make it impossible to carry Senator Harding's own plan into action, as a grave possibility. It is for this reason they ask if he will accept a "half a loaf," if he cannot have a whole one.

TWO SCARLET FEVER CASES.

School 2 Pupils Who Were Exposed Stay Home.

A case of scarlet fever has been reported to the board of health from School No. 2, a pupil there having contracted the disease. Today it was decided to exclude all pupils who had been exposed, for one week, in order to prevent a spread of the disease. The local health authorities are taking every precaution to prevent an outbreak of scarlet fever, and one is not expected. There are two cases in Kingston at the present time. The other case is an adult residing in Fochabridge, who is confined to a fever bed.

COX'S VARIED ROLES

By SCOTT G. BONE.

At "ode" with Woodrow Wilson and for Wilsonism and all it implies, without reservation, yet beseeching a weary, tax-burdened country to elect him President. That's Candidate Cox.

An exponent, for campaign purposes, of progressive thought and lofty ideals, yet nominated and backed by Boss Murphy, Boss Brennan, Boss Taggart and Ed Moore! That's Candidate Cox.

Wettest of the wet aspirants for President, save Edwards, by Bryan's appraisal, in a Democratic Convention dominated by the wets, yet now endeavoring to convince an arid country that he is dry and ever has been a dry! That's Candidate Cox.

Charging that a corruption fund of $15,000,000 was being raised to buy up the Presidency, and then, at safe distance from the seat of inquiry, raising the amount to $50,000,000, yet without producing an iota of evidence in support of his wild charges. That's Candidate Cox.

A machine-made politician, vouched for by Tammany, yet pretending to have been given the light in 1912 as a disciple of Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson! That's Candidate Cox.

Arraigning the press for not taking him seriously by printing his speeches, yet knowing, as a newspaper man, that the cost of print paper under this Administration is too high to give space to mere words! That's Candidate Cox.

Crying out against a mythical "Senate oligarchy," because the precious Wilson covenant failed of ratification, yet with full knowledge that hostility of Democratic Senators rendered ratification impossible! That's Candidate Cox.

A mild, dogging critic of Burlesonism and Palmerism, when confronted by hecklers out West, yet committed unqualifiedly to Burlesonism and Palmerism by the Democratic platform! That's Candidate Cox.

An apologist for the sinking of the Lusitania, a pacifist of the Newton Baker stripe as clouds gathered, and intervening on behalf of a rich slacker when war came on, yet today appealing for the support of American sons who went to the front! That's Candidate Cox.

Dry to the drys, wet to the wets, spirituelle to the spiritual, all things to all crowds, in the face of the G. O. P. landslide clearly impending, yet never daring to deviate in his devotion to Wilsonism or the Wilson League by the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t"! That's Candidate Cox!

And, finally—an acrobatic Ajax defying the lightning of public disapproval! That's Candidate Cox.

VOTERS ENCOUNTER NO DIFFICULTY CHOOSING BETWEEN CANDIDATES.

Washington.—The American people are carefully making a close comparison right now between Senator Harding and Governor Cox. The choice between these two men and the policies they represent is not a difficult one and the writer honestly believes the American people have their minds made up and are ready to vote.

Senator Harding and Governor Cox are almost diametrically opposed to each other in everything. Senator Harding stands for Americanism and Governor Cox espouses internationalism. Harding is cautious about what kind of a league he and his party go into while Cox wants to wade right into the European league as proposed by President Wilson.

Senator Harding is careful, deliberate, dignified, staccato, serious and constructive, while Governor Cox is crafty, quick to seize upon any kind of an article; he is bombastic and impulsive.

Senator Harding has been a lifetime accumulating a moderate fortune while Governor Cox jumped into the multimillionaire class in a few years. Harding lives modestly and quietly in an unostentatious manner while Governor Cox lives in luxury on a large estate in a home costing half a million dollars.

Warren G. Harding will be fifty-five years of age on Election Day. He is old enough to know and young enough to do. His rival has not yet reached even the years of discretion.

Plutocratic Custom.

A custom and plutocratic custom in Korea is the handing down of a family lot from father to eldest son. This lot, made from the bark of family acacia, is a precious possession, and is so carefully handled that it does not wear out for generations.

Only 14, But Is Very Busy Boosting Harding

Here is a picture of James Duncan MacGregor, Jr., age fourteen, who is the publisher of The Weekly Press of Stamford, Conn. In a recent issue of his newspaper he said: to say the object of The Weekly Press is to publish facts, and my part in helping the United States get into office good, honest men, men who love their country first of all. As I am only fourteen years old, I cannot vote, but I appeal to all voters to cast their ballot for Senator Warren G. Harding and Governor Calvin Coolidge.

JAMES DUNCAN MAC GREGOR, JR.

BAKER'S ADVISOR OUT FOR HARDING

Washington.—Major Benedict Crowell, Mr. Baker's former Assistant Secretary of War, warm admirer of President Wilson, is the latest distinguished man to declare in an interview that he is in favor of the election of Harding and Coolidge and a Republican Congress at the polls in November.

Major Crowell goes so far as to say that he is in favor of the league of nations but he prefers to take his chances on getting the league with Senator Harding rather than with Governor Cox.

"Now that President Wilson is retiring from active political life," said Major Crowell, "it is wise for his supporters to pause and take stock of the situation. I have always favored a league of nations but the Democratic party has no monopoly on the league. Indeed, the present Democratic administration has failed on this subject in spite of the fact that 75 per cent of the Senate were in favor of some kind of a league."

"It seems evident that Governor Cox is making many promises regarding the league which he may not be able to fulfill."

Senator Harding, observing leads in to believe, has created a strong impression of earnestness, sincerity and high sense of duty. His utterances are marked by a studied moderation; he exhibits no arrogance of opinion, and has made no extravagant promises of a millennium to be created by pro-democracy; he seems rather to express the national spirit than to impose a doctrine of political infallibility. And there is an unmistakably a growing view that Governor Cox is a shifty opportunist, superficial in thought, evasive in appeal and irresponsible in statement.—Pittsburgh's North American.

BR'ER RABBIT IN HARD LUCK

Or, Caught Bare Handed At Midnight In Catskill Woods By Pathetic Man Who Had Just Missed Getting Tangled Up With a Bear.

Two very successful Columbia gramophone records were recently given by W. S. McDonough, proprietor of the Columbia Shop, on Fair street, one being given at the hall in Chichester and the other in the Casino at Rosendale. At each of the concerts was a special representative of the Columbia company from the New York office. Both of the concerts were largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed but the concert at Chichester was not without certain events of a very amusing nature. The trip was made to Chichester in Mr. McDonough's Ford automobile and there he had a tale accompanied by the special representative from the New York office of the Columbia company and Lewis Shaw, the home trip had begun at 2 a. m. As the little Ford rumbled along toward Kings on a dark night appeared from the woods and started to cross the road directly in front of the Ford. The special representative from New York, whose knowledge of wild animals is limited to one or two fishing trips into the country and frequent visits to Bronx Park, grasped the side of the car and, clutching his eyes and the car bounded along toward the "animal." As the headlights played upon the little lumbering animal in the road, Mr. McDonough turned his car directly toward it in an effort to more clearly learn its nature. Had the man from New York been looking at that time he would have seen a small bear cub bustling to cover alongside the road in the woods in a moment the car was past and the man from New York breathed a sigh of relief. As he opened his eyes and took his hand from his nose he said, "I heard there were skunks up here, and I thought it was a skunk." But when informed it was merely a small bear cub he became excited and asked if there was a chance of meeting a full grown bear and was relieved to learn that there was little chance.

This information cheered him up and a little later when two wild rabbits dashed across the road in the glare of the headlights he demanded that the car be stopped so that he could hunt the rabbits. As they were still in sight the car was stopped and "Lou" and the man from New York gave chase. Evidently startled by the light of the car the little animals became confused and the two hunters yanked rapidly upon their reins. The New York man was ready to reach out and grab one, then he tripped over a root and down he went on hands and knees, spilling the knees of his pants. In an endeavor to stop before he fell on top of the Columbia representative "Lou" braced himself but the ground was slippery and out went his feet and down he went in a reverse direction from the man in the lead. The latter did a good job removing the mud from the rear of "Lou's" suit next day.

Not to be discouraged the two started out again and cornered one of the rabbits in a fence and next day rabbit was served for dinner. Encouraged by his luck the man from New York will probably come up later and go "hunting" again but he will provide himself with a gun and not depend upon his speed as a runner.

MORNING SESSION S. S. CONVENTION

This morning's session of the Kingston County Sunday School Convention opened with devotional exercises led by the Rev. J. P. Nicholas, D. D., of Woodstock, after which the following nominating committee was appointed: The Rev. D. W. Guthrie, Mrs. D. D. Taylor, the Rev. Mr. Appeldoorn and Charles Snyder.

Plans for the year were then discussed by Prof. A. S. Goodrich, division superintendent, who considered a training class of vital importance in successful Sunday school work.

Prof. Burgess said that the way to get such a class of school, was to organize those to be trained, from the community, rather than from any one church. Classes should be held at some neutral place, Chamber of Commerce room, high school auditorium, etc., and members of classes must be willing to work as well as listen to addresses.

Again the chief speaker was Prof. Goodrich, who followed up his talk of Monday evening with a talk on "Geology." It was Prof. Goodrich's idea that if the Sunday school teacher is to hold the boys and girls of high school years, he or she must be able to prove to those boys and girls that they learn in high school does not contradict the Bible they study in Sunday school. Yet how can they do this if absolutely ignorant of geology, of geology, of sciences as a whole. He proved in both his talks that while the Bible scientific statements have never had to be changed to be proved true, the scientific statements of our schools are changed every ten years. His talk on geology was not only exceedingly interesting, it was most provocative of thought and questioning. Yet the speaker showed that our deepest and keenest minded men were also Bible men. Today some of our greatest universities are demanding the passing of examinations in Bible study for entrance to their institutions. The late Dr. Dana, the great scientist, claimed that there was more truth in the scientific statements of the Bible than in any other book.

The address was convincing proof of a statement made by Prof. Goodrich, that there is nothing in all of God's universe that is not of value in the teaching of the Bible.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 26.—The stock market showed a strong tone during the first 15 minutes today, but business was small in volume and the changes in nearly all cases were limited to fractional amounts. Steel Common was in scant supply and moved up 1/4 to 89 1/4 on a few transactions. Baldwin Locomotive rose 1/4 to 115 1/4 and the same amount of gain was made in Republic Steel which sold at 79. Mexican Petroleum rose 1/4 to 19 3/4. Other oil stocks moved up slightly. Royal Dutch advancing 1/2 to 78 1/2. Tobacco Products was prominent, advancing nearly 1 point to 68. Coca Cola was a weak feature because of the action of the directors yesterday in suspending dividend payments and declined 1 1/2 to 25 1/2. Seneca Copper was firm moving up to above 18. There was little doing in the railroad issues. The market closed irregular; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

LAUDS HARDING'S WELFARE PROGRAM

Marion, O.—Mrs. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, was the spokeswoman for thousands of women industrial workers and women interested in problems of public welfare who gathered here to listen to Senator Harding's speech on "Social Justice."

Mrs. Robins, who is president of the National Women's Trades Union League, said:

"We have come knowing well that we represent but one of many groups social justice? They see their opportunity to serve the nation in and through a program dealing with the vital issues with which they are at home, the protection of childhood, the care of mothers and babies, the safeguarding of women workers, the conservation of health and the needs of women on the farms."

"We have listened to a great speech, one of the few great speeches of a decade, and its effect will be far-reaching."

Many are for Gov. George Harvey, because they are convinced that he will not keep his word. It is hard to conceive a harsher criticism of a Presidential candidate.—Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer.

of citizens in America, with becomingly divergent interests, and we understand we must find the way to relate our various needs and hopes and aspirations that out of such inter-relationship may come the realization of America's ideals for first and above all we want to serve our country."

"We have always known," said Mrs. Robins, "that certain groups of women are vitally interested in social and industrial questions—but we did not know that the great mass of women, all sorts of women, young and old, from the farms and from the cities—are also interested."

"What is it they see in the call to

"Prince of Wales." The title was first conferred on Prince Edward, afterward King Edward II of England, in 1301. He was born at Carnarvon, Wales, and the story goes that the king predicted the new-born child to the Welsh as their native prince who would speak no word of English. The idea of using the title for the heir apparent to the British throne was introduced by Edward III, who in 1343 invested his son, the Black Prince, with the principality. From that time the title has been borne by the eldest son of the reigning king.

Peculiar Chinese Music. Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the famous songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations and goes far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his judgment dictates and the strings, reeds or brass may break in almost any time.

Micro Indispensable. The main importance of micro to modern industry lies in the fact that it is one of the best conductors of electricity and is, therefore, indispensable in electrical engineering. On this account the British government took over part of the mica field in India and worked it as a state industry in order to make sure of having a constant supply.

Rustom Rustomjee.

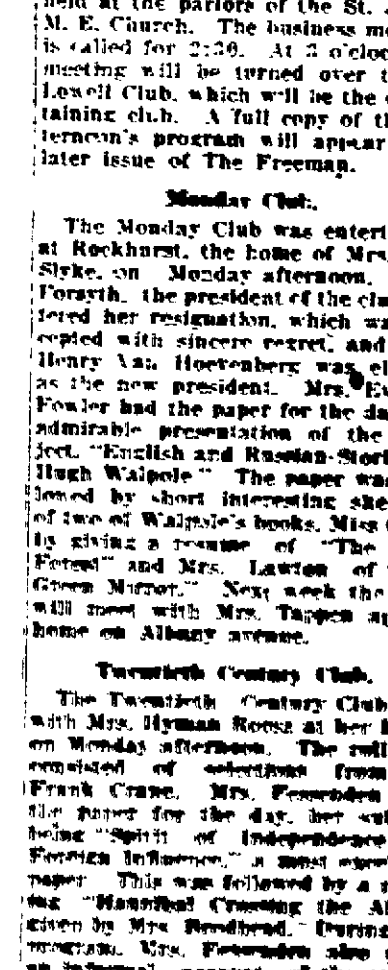

Rustom Rustomjee of India, former editor of the Oriental Review, who is touring this country lecturing on conditions in his native land. While not a loyalist, Mr. Rustomjee is not opposed to British rule in India because the Indians are not yet ready for self-government because there are so many races, religions and castes hostile to each other. Mr. Rustomjee says there are forty-eight different races, seventy-one different languages and two hundred different dialects in India. He adds that if the British should withdraw from India the conditions there would be worse than the conditions in Russia and Mexico.

Old Bell Specially Preserved.

In an old graveyard in County Antrim, Ireland, a farmer, while plowing, discovered a stone church bell weighing three tons, and believed to be over 300 years old. The bell is in a splendid state of preservation, with a clear, powerful tone. The old Rostons parish church, where the bell was made, has been in ruins since the time of the Reformation.

1920 FOOTBALL STARS ARE LEGION

(By Jack Velock.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman
New York, Oct. 26.—There is a blue nightmare in store for the experts who will select all-American eleven this fall, according to indications today.

The football armament is full of stars already and the current season is only a little more than half played out. Many big games to come are bound to develop more heroes. Back field talent, particularly is plentiful. And what an epidemic of crack quarterbacks! "Ho" McMillan, ranking quarter of 1919, has lost no prestige if anything he gained a little against Harvard.

Benny Boynton, Williams' crack captain and quarter, is just as brilliant as he was in 1919. He has scored 84 points this season and leads all players in the individual scoring list.

Murphy of Yale, Huell and Fitzgerald of Harvard, Lourie and Murray of Princeton, Carey of Cornell, Dunn of Michigan and Bob Fletcher of Illinois are shining brightly.

Way, Penn State; Flowers, Georgia Tech; Oss, Minnesota; Gipp, Notre Dame; Mayor, Cornell; Owen and Churchill, Harvard; Garrett, Princeton; Stuchcombe, Ohio State; Heck, West Virginia; Kelly, Yale; Moore, Nebraska; Lawrence, Army; Kaw, Cornell; and Davies, Pitt, are among the halfbacks who are showing great form.

Arnold Horween, captain and fullback of the Harvard team who is also a kicker of ability, stands out among the fullbacks. Scheerer, of Princeton, Strauss, Penn; Crangle, Illinois, and Ruben, Minn., are all great fullbacks.

The linemen are looming up as per usual. Gullick of Syracuse is one of the best tackles in the country. Faxon, Harvard; Kieck, Princeton; Dickinson, Yale, and others, too numerous to mention, will give the experts something to puzzle over in selecting tackles.

Gullick, of course, stands up as almost sure shot for one tackle position.

The other line positions have developed no great outstanding stars, though there are many good centers and guards. A dearth of really good ends is noticeable this season.

"BLUENOSES" PRAY FOR HIGH WIND

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 26.—Nova Scotia fishermen are praying for a gale, when the fishing schooner Delawanna, pride of the Lunenburg fleet, meets the American schooner Esperanto in the international race off this port on Saturday next. The Delawanna is a good sea boat in heavy weather and her skipper believes that high winds will insure her victory. In a recent race off this port the Delawanna sailed off over 10 knots an hour in a 25 mile gale. The Nova Scotians realize that they will have a hard boat to beat in the Yankee craft and a thrilling contest is expected. It is believed that, under any circumstances, victory will be won by a narrow margin.

Then your old glasses, aren't they? You don't get that awful glare when the sun is directly under the light. Well, there's a good and sufficient reason for that. The lenses are ground right and the measurement is correct. If your glasses are not right come in and we will fit you with a pair that will be right.

'Y' BOWLERS IN STATE ASS'N

The Kingston Y. M. C. A. is entered this year in the State Y. M. C. A. bowling tournament to be held during the winter. The plan provides for a team to be selected by each association and on the dates set by the executive committee of the state each team will bowl on its home alleys and the scores forwarded into the official score keeper. After this series of elimination trials on the home alleys the leading teams in the state will be entered in the final bowling tournament to be held at some city to be named later.

Appropriate prizes have been awarded by a number of well known men interested in bowling and some interesting competition over the state is looked for. The method of selecting the local team will be to keep the scores bowled on the alleys for the coming ten days and after that the five men will be selected to represent Kingston. With such men as DuFlon, Hagenlocker, Pardee, Safford, Terwilliger, Snyder and several others the local association should be able to put up a team that will be able to hold its own with the average Ys throughout the state.

On Friday of this week the Mercantile Bowling League will get under way. All teams are anxiously waiting their chance to get the jump on the other. It is probable that some black horse material will be unearthed for selection for the state tournament.

The dates set for the bowling off of the state tournament are November 10 and 24, December 3 and 22, January 5 and 19, February 2 and 16, March 2 and 16.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR ROTHSTEIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Chicago, Oct. 26.—Important information concerning alleged corruption of major league baseball players by dishonest gamblers is expected by the grand jury here today from Arnold Rothstein, wealthy New York sportsman, and gambler, and Joe Gideon, second baseman of the St. Louis Browns. Both Rothstein and Gideon are in Chicago, waiting to testify.

Rothstein has been mentioned as one of the gamblers said to have been approached by Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, in an effort to induce him to participate in the "fixing" of the 1919 world's series. Officials here are inclined to believe that Rothstein had no part in the "fixing" but will be able to give information that will aid them in discovering the real instigators of the plot.

Gideon conferred with Assistant State Attorney Replegan soon after his arrival here and it is understood he has denied any knowledge of the 1919 scandal, although admitting that he was $400 betting on the Cincinnati Reds against the White Sox.

It is believed that the grand jury is nearing the end of its investigation.
